PASTOR DAVID T.

“Imagine covenant people living under their privilege! Judges 6:2 tells us that the Israelites took to the mountains and had to live in caves and dens because of the strong hand of the Midianites. It was so bad that even when they planted crops, marauders from Midian, Amalek, and other surrounding nations came and destroyed their crops, leaving nothing to eat. They even stole their cattle, sheep, oxen, and donkeys. In fact, it says they completely stripped and devastated the land. Israel was reduced to abject poverty. Again, following the sin, servitude, and repentance cycle, at last the people began to cry out to the Lord for help.

God’s reply was simple and direct through the prophet (notice that much of the prophet’s words were not foretelling but forthtelling the mind of the Lord—declaring God’s purpose and plan). God said several things to remind them of His faithfulness:” - pg. 25

“Even as a young man, Samson began to realize his destiny. Note that in Judges 13:25, while hanging around his warlike tribe of Dan, he felt the yearnings of war to establish a permanent and settled territory. It is important to note that time spent in preparation is very important to the overall success of what God desires to do in our lives. It was here at military headquarters that God used divine intervention and caused the Holy Spirit to move on him. This was Samson’s first real experience of Holy Ghost power, and it would be repeated a few more times in his life. The more we study the life of Samson, the more we see a man who was supernaturally prepared for his task by God.

It will become clearer and clearer that it could not have been human” - pg. 47

David T. Demola is one of the best Pastor/ Shepherd leaders and writers I've ever known. Time after time David has blessed me with inspiring new thoughts for my own ministry, and above all he has blessed my heart-something I often need. David's writing reminds me of David the Psalmist. You will be blessed in a most uplifting way.
